

Dr. Jerry Daniels Biography

In his position as student college advisor, Dr. Jerry Daniels oversees the college application process and helps students select appropriate colleges, prepare the resume, write required essays, complete applications and navigate the unique challenges that each student will face between high school applicant and college freshmen. Jerry's passion is helping students succeed. He says, "The decisions we make are only as good as the information we use to make them. I provide the information critical to making good decisions about education after high school".

Jerry is an East Texas State (Texas A&M Commerce) graduate with a Master's of Science Degree also from East Texas State. In, addition, he holds a PhD from Texas A&M University. In his accomplished career as an educator, he has held positions from the high school to college level and received numerous awards including Fort Bend ISD secondary teacher of the year in 1996. His experience has allowed him to develop a detailed understanding of what is expected of the student at the secondary level of education as well as at the institutions of higher learning. The years of working with high school and college youth in Fort Bend ISD and at Texas A&M have helped him develop an easy rapport with students and parents alike.

Jerry is an avid reader and novice comic book collector. And you might just find him at the movie theater in his spare time. He loves a good movie that "makes you think".
